

Hunt Introduction

As international travel has been restricted recently, you gathered at the local Puzzle Club, looking forward to solving some puzzles with your team instead. There, you learned that a unique puzzle hunt has been organized. It involves an extraordinary race around the world, filled with puzzles at various locations. Wagers are being taken up on which team will be able to solve the puzzles and complete the hunt journey in the shortest time. Like all the other teams in the Puzzle Club, you all jumped at this opportunity and packed your bags to get ready for the race...

1 week prior to the hunt, teams received a physical race pack in their mail comprising a customized boarding pass for each member to the starting line at New York City, and a set of 17 postcards which were used for the New York puzzle.

The rip-tear envelope containing the race pack was opened by all teams together during the Hunt Kick-off session.
