

Runaround

You remember a folded note which your mentor had handed to you just before you escaped from the Puzzleville State Penitentiary, and opened it up to read it.

If you ever get out of here, do me a favor.

There's a big library up near Paya Lebar. It's got a long wall shelf, with two big screens at the west end.

Promise me. If you ever get out... find that spot.

At the base of that shelf, you'll find a book that has no earthly business over there.

There's something hidden in it I want you to have.
