

3.2 - Blade Runner

On one of many planets that contain a reproduction of the Tyrell Building, you find Gaff administering the Voight-Kampff test on five subjects. He hands you a diagram to fill in the results, and seems to expect something from you.

Amongst these five test subjects:

- One always answers with a lie
- One always answers with the truth
- One answers with a lie to the even numbered questions, and with the truth to the rest
- One answers with a lie to the odd numbered questions, and with the truth to the rest
- One answers with the truth to the first 9 questions, and with a lie to the rest
